ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Tania Lattanzio is an experienced international educator and Director of Innovative Global Education. She has a M Ed in Curriculum and Administration, a Graduate Diploma in Librarianship and a Diploma in Education. Previously, Tania was a teacher, coordinator, and manager with the International Baccalaureate. She is now Director of Innovative Global Education. In her role as Director she works as an education consultant extensively in Asia Pacific and other parts of the world. This role involves developing and conducting professional development for teachers and leadership, modeling pedagogy in classrooms, developing and designing curriculum for schools and working intensively with teaching teams, through mentoring and coaching, to improve planning, teaching and assessment. A passionate educator Tania works closely with educational institutions to specifically meet their needs in supporting school reform, making significant shifts in pedagogy and curriculum in both local and international settings.

Tania has co-written a book 'Taking the Complexity Out of Concepts" available through Hawker Brownlow Publishers.

About the workshop:

The Role of Assessment in Student Learning

Audience

This workshop will be suitable for teachers and leaders that want to improve their assessment of student learning. This includes classroom teachers, single subject teachers or coordinators teaching in Elementary to High School.

Workshop

This workshop will focus on how to effectively assess students in order to plan to meet their needs. It will look at the difference between formative and summative assessment and give participants the opportunity to develop assessment strategies they can implement in their teaching. The workshop will examine all aspects of formative assessment and how to effectively use day to day formative assessments to meet the needs of students.

What to bring

Participants will need to bring assessment tools they currently use and samples of student work to look for evidence of learning.

The workshop will focus on:

- What is assessment? Why do we assess?
- What is the difference between an assessment tool and an assessment strategy?
- Examining the difference between Assessment For, Assessment Of and Assessment As Learning
- What is the role of backwards planning and assessment?
- How do we determine expectable evidence of learning?
- Using the Innovative Global Education Rubric of Understanding to develop levels for assessing conceptual understanding
- What makes a good summative assessment task?
- Examining the importance of formative assessment for student learning
- Understanding the role of prior knowledge
- Exploring and developing formative assessment tools and strategies that assess students' understanding of conceptual learning
- Understanding the role of feedback as a formative assessment strategy.
- Understanding and examining the role reflection and self assessment as a part of the learning process
- Examine day to day formative assessment strategies and how can we use them in our everyday teaching to improve student learning.
- Reflect on where to next with our assessment practice.
